MISSISSIPPI RISING FAST.

Memphis, Tenn., Jan. 24.—The Mississippi river from Cairo to New Orleans is rising rapidly, and there is enough water in sight to send it above the danger line from Cairo to Vicksburg. The water rose a foot here Sunday and in four days it probably will be above the danger line. At Cairo the danger line has been passed, with a further heavy flood coming down the Ohio, Cumberland and Tennessee. Two crevasses in the levees in the Mississippi delta are not yet repaired, and it will not be possible to fill them within ten days. The situation is regarded as extremely grave, and unless there is a general freeze throughout the north, Mississippi and Ohio valleys a repetition of last year's flood is looked for.

A. S. Hyde Returns to Dixon.

Dixon, Ill., Jan. 24.—Arvine S. Hyde, former county clerk and recorder of Lee county, and secretary of the Dixon Building and Loan association, who State Inspector Dunlap reports $14,099.46 short in his accounts as secretary, returned from Tacoma, Wash., Saturday night. He was arrested and taken before Justice Scott, who held him to the grand jury under bond. It is said a special grand jury will be called, an indictment rendered and Hyde sentenced.

Battleships at Key West.

Jacksonville, Fla., Jan. 24.—A telegram from Key West says Admiral Seward, with the battleships New York, Indiana, Massachusetts, Iowa and Texas arrived off the bar at 10 o'clock Sunday. The Maine, Montgomery and Detroit and torpedo boats Cushing and Dupont went out and joined the fleet. An important message was received at Key West at 11 o'clock for Admiral Seward, but there is no way of transportation to the fleet.

Conference of Minor Leagues.

Chicago, Jan. 24.—President Ban Johnson of the Western league and Charles Comiskey of the St. Paul club left yesterday for Buffalo, where, with Vanderbeck of Detroit they will confer with a committee of the Eastern league. The subjects under consideration are the amended drafting rules, the advisability of a post-season series of games between the two league champions and a salary agreement.

Death of M. J. Cramer.

Will Hold International Conference.

London, Jan. 24.—The general act of the anti-slavery conference held at Brussels in 1892 provided that after the lapse of six years a fresh meeting of the representatives of the signatory powers should be held, with a view to the revision of the liquor traffic regulations in Africa, which are more honored in the breach than in the observance. Germany being the worst offender in this respect, shipping enormous quantities of vile spirits from Hamburg for native African consumption. Great Britain has frequently protested against this, and, with the object of invoking a sort of international movement against its continuance, has demanded that Belgium should, in accordance with the terms of the 1892 treaty, summon another international conference. The invitations have just been issued, and the conference is to take place in April next at Brussels.

Protest Against Reduction.

Washington, Jan. 24.—About forty postmasters have replied to the circular sent out by Postmaster-General Gary asking what savings could be made in the administration of their offices during the remainder of the fiscal year, in order to avert a deficiency in the postal appropriation. Nearly all of them set out that their offices are now being run on an economical basis and that any further reduction of working force is out of the question.

Fusion at Lebanon, Ind.

Lebanon, Ind., Jan. 24.—A fusion between the democrats, populists and silver republicans was perfected here Saturday, by the terms of which the last two are to abandon their organizations. In exchange the populist candidates for representative, auditor and one commissioner and the silver-republican candidate for county surveyor are to receive these places on the democratic ticket at the fall election.

Russian Statesmen Alarmed.

London, Jan. 24.—The Manchester Guardian states that private letters from St. Petersburg received by a high official in London say the Russian government is much concerned at the number of Chinese flocking into Siberia from the northwest of China and that the ministers have decided to take measures to check this inroad, "as it is commercially and politically embarrassing."

Extra Guards for Gen. Lee.

Key West, Fla., Jan. 24.—Telegrams received from Havana state that extra guards have been placed around Consul General Lee's office for protection. Circumstances have been distributed around Havana calling on volunteers for the protection of the American colony. No news of an attempt to assassinate Lee has been received.

U. S. Ship at Cuba.

Washington, Jan. 24.—[Special].—The battleship Maine will visit Havana in a few days with an entirely friendly purpose, and an indication that the relations between this country and Spain are thoroughly amicable.

CREATES A STIR IN MADRID.

Alleged Ordering of American Ships to Cuba Warmly Discussed.

Madrid, Jan. 24.—The report that American warships have been ordered to Cuban waters caused great excitement here. The impartial, in the course of a violent article, says: "We see now the eagerness of the Yankees to seize Cuba."

The cabinet met in the evening and decided to address a manifesto to the country. Our minister, in the course of an interview, said the government was quite tranquil respecting the movements of the American warships, which were fully known to the minister of marine.

Lee Says Havana Is Safe.

Jacksonville, Fla., Jan. 24.—The commander of the naval station at Key West received a message from General Lee Sunday afternoon. He says the city is safe, but there is suppressed excitement in the American colony.

FRANCE NEARS A CRISIS.

Dread of Military Intervention Is Increasing Daily.

Paris, Jan. 24.—It is clear that the last scene in the Chamber of Deputies will not end the Dreyfus agitation. The situation is rendered more grave, owing to the nearness of the general election. Party passions and racial and religious hatreds are daily becoming more inflamed.

It is evident that France is drifting toward a serious crisis, and the dread of military intervention increases.

Simplifies Eastern Question.

London, Jan. 24.—The Times says editorially: "We are glad to learn from various trustworthy and mutually independent sources, that the rumors of Germany's intention to open Kiaochow to the world's commerce are well founded. If this decision is maintained Kiaochow will probably become a great, busy and flourishing entrepot of the world's trade—a northern Hongkong. The wisdom of the decision cannot be doubted. It will tend to improve the unnecessarily strained relations between Great Britain and Germany. It is to be hoped that other nations will follow Germany's example and that the far eastern question may thereby be greatly simplified."

Floods at Vandalia.

Vandalia, Ill., Jan. 24.—The heavy rains of the last few days have flooded everything in this section. The Okaw river and tributaries are out of their banks and bottom lands east and south of here are submerged. Bridges and fences have been swept away and much damage has been done farm property along the course of the river. The main thoroughfares leading into this city are almost impassable. Several families living in the lowlands had to be removed in boats.

Supplies Can Not Be Forwarded

Skaguay, Alaska, Jan. 7, via Seattle, Wash., Jan. 24.—Thirty persons have arrived here during the past week from the Klondike mining region. They say there is food enough at Dawson to last until the Yukon river is open and navigation is resumed. In reference to the proposed government relief expedition all agree that it will be impossible to forward supplies down the river on the ice.

Mechanic Buried in Westminster.

Notwithstanding all that Britain owes to mechanics, there is but one workman who received the highest funeral honors of being buried in Westminster abbey, and that was George Graham, a famous scientific instrument maker of his day, who in 1700 invented the dead-beat escapement in clocks. Graham's obsequies were attended by the Royal society in a body.

IMMIGRATION BILL IS SURE TO PASS

MAJORITY OF 219 COUNTED FOR THE MEASURE.

It Has Already Passed the Senate and There Is Said To Be No Doubt That the House Will Acquire—Summary of Washington News.

DULL WEEK IN HOUSE.

Present Week's Programme Comprises District of Columbia Affairs.

Washington, Jan. 24.—The house programme for this week includes little of importance beyond the limits of the District of Columbia. Almost the entire week will be devoted to the District of Columbia appropriation bill.

It is expected that the Indian appropriation bill, the consideration of which was begun Saturday, will be completed today. The only item in the bill which is likely to cause much of a contest is that providing for the leasing of the Gilsonite beds of the Uncompaghe reservation in Utah. This provision was beaten in the last Indian bill and will be stubbornly contested now. The district bill will probably consume the remainder of the week.

Mills Still Closed Down.

New Bedford, Mass., Jan. 24.—No attempt was made to start the striking cloth mills this morning. Secretary Ross is in receipt of offers to aid the strikers. The committee of the general strike committee, composed of representatives of the various associations, will begin to-morrow to solicit funds for the strike. All funds received by them will be devoted to the benefit of all the strikers, union and non-union alike.

Eugene V. Debs' Appeal.

Chicago, Jan. 24.—Eugene V. Debs has issued an appeal to the American public for aid in saving the life of Salter T. Worden, sentenced to be hanged in California Feb. 11. Worden was convicted of participating in wrecking a train near Sacramento in 1894. All efforts to save him have failed and Governor Budd has refused to interfere. Mr. Debs declares Worden is innocent of the crime for which he is under sentence of death.

Alarm on the Nile Subsiding.

London, Jan. 24.—The Cairo correspondent of the Daily Telegraph says: "General Sir Herbert Kitchener, commander of the Anglo-Egyptian expedition in the Sudan, has telegraphed the officers here that it is needless that they should ascend the Nile, as the dervishes are quiet. The scare is over and no movement is now expected before the next high Nile."

A "Low-Down Nigger."

A colored woman went to the pastor of her church the other day to complain of the conduct of her husband, who, she said, was a low-down, worthless, trifling nigger. After listening to a long recital of the delinquencies of her neglectful spouse and her efforts to correct him, the minister said: "Have you ever tried heaping coals of fire upon his head?" "No," was the reply, "but I done tried hot water."—Washington Letter Chicago Record.

MEN ARE SLAIN BY EXPLOSION

Fatal Accident In Madison Round House.

THREE ARE KILLED AND MANY HURT.

Building Is Wrecked, and Other Locomotives Are Damaged—Machine the One That Hauled Conductor John H. Dower's Train and Was Due Here At Noon—Accident Happened Shortly Before Leaving Time—Names of the Victims.

Madison, Wis., Jan. 27.—[Special].—Engine No. 249, on the C. & N. W. road, exploded in the round house here this morning, killing three men and wounding six; wrecking the round house; and damaging other engines. The dead are:

FRANK BEIK, foreman roundhouse, Madison.

O. W. SHEELPER, engineer, Baraboo.

C. W. YOUNG, Engineer, Baraboo.

The men severely injured were:

J. W. ANDERSON, Engineer, Madison.

EMIL OLSON, Mechanic, Madison.

JOHN ANDERSON, Engineer, Madison.

FRED HAGEN, Foreman, Madison.

FRED BAXTER, Fireman, Madison.

Slightly injured:

Joe Beck, dispatcher, Madison.

The cause of the accident is unknown. The engine was an old one, but was supposed to be in good condition.

The explosion occurred about an hour before the train was to leave for Janesville.

The explosion was distinctly felt up town, a mile away from the scene of the occurrence. Windows in the business houses rattled and lighter buildings shook from its force. The top of the boiler, weighing six or eight hundred pounds, was thrown a block and a half.

Train Due Here at Noon

The train hauled by the wrecked engine was due in Janesville this noon. John Dower, who resides on South Main street, is the conductor in charge, running from Madison to De Kalb. The train goes through Janesville at 12:45 and returns at 8:30 p. m. Another engine brought the train here this morning, and it was not much delayed.

The accident was due to the weakening of a trestle sixteen feet high by the storm raging at the time. The train, composed of an engine and several cars, was hurled into the river, the engine striking and sinking a coal barge in its descent.

Strike Admitted Hopeless.

London, Jan. 24.—The strike leaders have addressed a manifesto to the local secretaries of the Amalgamated Society of Engineers, begging that the respective district unions accept the employers' terms, with the addition of a few explanatory notes. The manifesto concludes by saying that the continuance of the struggle will involve an increasing drain on the society's funds, without chance of betterment. If the men obey the manifesto the workshops of the members of the Employers' federation will be simultaneously reopened to unionists on Jan. 31. The men will ballot on the question Tuesday.

Thomas H. Hines Dead.

Frankfort, Ky., Jan. 24.—Ex-Chief Justice Thomas H. Hines died at his home in this city Sunday morning. He had been widely known in state politics since 1870, but it was as a dashing confederate soldier under General John H. Morgan that he first came into national prominence. He was a captain under Morgan and accompanied him on the famous raid through Ohio which culminated in the capture of Morgan, Hines and their associates and their imprisonment in the Ohio penitentiary.

Order Kept in Paris.

Paris, Jan. 24.—In anticipation of the prohibited anti-Dreyfus demonstrations today, under the direction of the organizing committee of the anti-Dreyfus meeting at the Tivoli Vauxhall last Monday night, stringent measures were taken by the authorities to preserve order Sunday. The Palace de la Concorde and the garden of the Tuileries were held by detachments of cavalry and infantry and large forces of police. No serious disturbances occurred.

LOCAL CHURCH NEWS.

At the Congregational church the pastor spoke on the newspaper and the Kingdom of God using as the text Philippians 4:8. He said in part the printing press is of the greatest importance in the Kingdom of God. It was the rapid circulation of Luther's ideas by the printing press that did most to make his German Reformation a success. The modern newspaper is one of the most powerful agencies through which the printing press does its work. A man's newspaper enters into his inmost thought. A man has no secrets from what he reads. It touches the very deepest springs where his character is formed. So also the news get into the most sacred life of the home. It lies openly on the table within the reach of son and daughter and becomes one influence in forming their characters. The newspaper is free to speak on any subject. Laws, literature, history, science, religion may be freely discussed in its columns. We do not protest against the liberty of the press. There is more value than danger in it. It helps us understand all men and thus be brothers to them. It makes evil hide its head. Evil hates the exposing light of a free press. But this freedom makes the power of the press enormous. It may contradict or assist the teachings of home and school, and it has the opportunity every day of dropping into a man's mind some idea that will stick there and greatly influence his life.

Now there have arisen in connection with the newspaper, so great in its power, certain problems of which we may well think. One of them is that of sensationalism. In telling the facts of the world's life, the newspaper renders a service to the kingdom, but in overdrawing or highly coloring them for the sake of a sensation, it menaces the mental ideals of the people. We must not be afraid to face the many sad and revolting things that there are in life, but we need not draw them out, dwell upon them, or make them greater than they are. The important things of the world's life should be given prominence in the newspaper. The world's life is not in its crimes, its scandals, its blunders and disgraces, but in its art, literature, science, commerce, politics and religion. These must be given precedence. The sins are like barnacles which impede progress and need to be noticed only except so far as is necessary to find the best way to remove them. The good taste of a community is one of the most valuable possessions and should be guarded.

Now it is said that in printing sensation and exaggeration, the newspaper is only giving the people what want. This is partly true and partly not true. The newspaper has partly created the taste for sensation. Every man has a good side and a bad side, and you can feed either. But it is partly true that the American people, or part of them, do want sensation, and therefore we must use every effort in school, home, lecture and in our own minds to develop a higher taste than shall ask for an unsensational newspaper. That is our part in helping the newspaper serve the Kingdom. But there are many signs that these problems of the newspaper are solving themselves. The healthy mind will prevail over the unhealthy. Men grow tired of being deceived. And in time these will re-create a truth loving press that will do noble service for the kingdom of God. One thing I must add. The newspaper deals with today. A man must have other reading, other influences in his life that will ground his thoughts on eternal principles. He must not only know the facts of today but the truths of history and religion.

In the evening the pastor spoke of man's relation to the things which are impossible to him, showing that with what is possible to us we may make our lives happy and true.

PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH

Rev. T. T. Oreswell, of Beloit, occupied the pulpit at the Presbyterian church yesterday morning, and preached from the text in Matt. 4:16. "The people which sat in darkness saw great light."

We are living in a time when we have a great deal of light from Jesus Christ. Let us turn back and see if we can understand something of the light that Jesus brought to those who lived in his time. In all the history of the world, while there have been times when intense darkness concerning God existed, there never has been a time when some light has not come to men concerning God.

Heaven philosophers began in and went out, and did not go beyond themselves. Christian writers and thinkers began at the facts, at the outside, and went in. Many people are troubled with the question whether reason or the Scriptures should stand supreme as a standard. Reason should select the standard, and then the standard rules reason. We can never get the measurements of God Almighty by our reason, but our reason selects the standard, as the Scriptures of Jesus Christ, and then we are enabled to get some of the measurements of the infinite God.

What do we demand of a religion? In the first place, it must show us that it is divine. No religion can hold us that is of man's manufacture.

In the second place, it must be a religion that will in a measure, describe God himself, a meeting of His attributes, and personality. Again, it must tell us something of the future world, enough to enable us in this life to begin to prepare for the next life.

Lastly, the religion that holds us, must tell us how best to live in this life, how to bear its burdens, and overcome its sin.

On all of these four points the people at the time of Christ's coming were in darkness. They had some light, but it never went beyond probability. There was an uncertainty, vagueness, dimness, as pictured in the writings of Cicero, Plato, Seneca, and as Chas. Kingsley pictures it in "Hypatia." Jesus Christ steps in at this time, and brings something positive, clear, sure. No one at that time, would have listened to one unless he should have spoke with the character of a God. Jesus came, and filled the ideal of a God, as it never was filled before nor since. Not only so, but he must bear testimony by his words that he is God. This Jesus did, saying: "I and my Father are one." Again he must show it by his deeds. Jesus performed miracles and forgave sins by his own power and authority. The light of heathen philosophy gave only vagueness and uncertainty. Jesus' teachings were clear, positive. They were only for the few. Jesus gospel was for the entire world. Plato had as clear a conception of God as any of the heathen philosophers, and his belief is only a possibility of God, no certainty. Speculation confuses us, distorts our vision, but we can understand and a description of God written in flesh and blood in the person of his Son.

Socrates had as strong a conception of future life as any one, but it is nothing positive, only a deep desire. But Jesus says "I go to prepare a place for you," etc. There was darkness in those days concerning this life, its sin and sorrow. There was plenty of it but they were ignorant of how to overcome it and have redemption from it. It was a sad age that Christ came to, an age of degrading sensualities and blind and blighting despair. Jesus brought light then and brings it now. The moment we begin following the faintest glimmer of light, we will at last come out into the full light, the perfect day.

THE BAPTIST CHURCH

Pastor Kempton's morning subject was "Exercise unto Godliness." The text was in Tim. 4:7. Paul used the olden games as illustrations of what a Christian ought to be and do in the Christian life. Exercise yourself spiritually, as those who fit themselves in the gymnasium for the great games of the past, train themselves physically. Exercise is just what the body needs, regular exercise, and spiritual exercise is just as much needed.

Notice that we need this spiritual for the sake of the world about us. Men demand an active Christian life. Christianity is practical and the world demands an exercise of all our powers. This is what is meant by "Exercise unto Godliness." We are to follow Jesus and in all things do just what we think Lord would do under the same circumstances. Again we need this exercise for our own sake. Every one who is successful in music, or art, or war, or in any earthly avocation, must exercise along that line, and so it is in our spiritual lives. We must use our spiritual powers if we would grow in grace and be useful in bringing souls to the Saviour. It is not in the isolated monastery but in the world of sinful men that we are to exercise our spiritual lives. Notice the object or purpose of this spiritual exercise. We are to love God and if we reverence and love God we will exercise that love for him and godliness will grow in our lives. Another meaning of godliness is the living under God's laws. They are perfect and we cannot escape them. They are broad to cover all the relations of life. We are commanded to keep them and if we try to keep them we shall exercise unto godliness.

Another meaning of godliness is Godlikeness. We are to be become like Him. How are we to become like God? By becoming like his son and we may be like Christ by walking daily with him. Go with him. Keep him with you at all times in all things and you shall grow like him even in this world. "When the workman has done his best, in whatever work, God will make it good. Do your best and God will help you to become like himself.

The Y. P. S. O. E. was led by Mrs. Andrew Campbell. Subject "The Beatitudes."

Sunday Evening

Large congregations are being attracted to the Baptist church on Sunday evenings. Mr. Kempton spoke of "Treasures in Egypt," giving many vivid descriptions of what he himself had seen in that strange land. The text was: Hebrews 11:24-26: "Moses refused to be called the son of Pharaoh's daughter, esteeming the reproach of Christ greater riches than the treasures in Egypt." There are many strange choices recorded in scripture, and this is one of the strangest of all. Egypt was the treasure house of the world. There was the great natural treasure, the Nile, there were the treasures of architecture, of history, of sacred history, but Moses left them all.

In leaving Egypt Moses left the river to which he owed his life. Every child here remembers the touching story of Moses' childhood. The very name of Moses means "drawn out," "because," said Pharaoh's daughter, "I have drawn him out of the water." What a charming idyll of infancy this is! While in Egypt I saw the place where they say Moses was found. No reeds are there today, but solid walls of masonry rise from the water's edge. But Moses chose desert sands to these green banks, and he hot winds to the waving palms. How often in his dreams must he have heard the rippling of this river which had been the cradle of his childhood and pride of his maturer years.

In leaving Egypt, Moses left the land in which he was educated. It was one of the greatest universities of ancient times. In its marble building was Moses educated. Here he mingled with the scholars and acquired all the tastes of an educated man. But Moses left savants for slaves. How great a sacrifice!

In leaving Egypt, Moses left treasures which would have been his as a member of Pharaoh's household. The kings of Egypt were fabulously rich. Great treasure-cities held their wealth. But Moses chose slaves rather than kings; the desert rather than the verdant valley; a tent rather than a palace; a bed of sand rather than a couch of silk; poverty rather than plenty; hardships rather than luxury; forty years of wandering rather than a life of ease, and, at last, an unknown grave upon Nebo's lonely mountain, rather than a tomb in a pyramid.

But he was rewarded. See him with Jesus on the Mount of Transfiguration; see him among the chiefs in Heaven; hear the "Song of Moses and the Lamb." Compare this with Pharaoh's reward.

Let his choice be thy choice. Choose "the reproach of Christ" rather than any "treasures" this world can give.

Miss Anderson, who is fast acquiring an enviable reputation as a soloist, rendered a beautiful selection.

PAPER SPEAKS WELL OF JUDGE CLELAND

FORMER JANESVILLE MAN HONORED.

Made a Circuit Judge By Governor. Lord, of the State of Oregon—Was Born Near This City, and Has Made His Mark At His New Home.

James B. Cleland, oldest son of James Cleland, of this city, has been appointed judge of the fourth judicial circuit of Oregon by Gov. Lord. His appointment to the equity bench is commended warmly by press and bar. The Portland Oregonian says:

"For the past seven years the new judge has been one of the leading members of the Portland bar, as the senior member of the firm of Cleland & Cleland, lawyers. He bore the title of judge when he came to Portland, brought with him a varied and wide experience in the practice of law, and has since demonstrated to his fellow attorneys his ability as an orator before jury or court. Judge Cleland appeared as associate counsel with C. E. S. Wood in the celebrated Ladd-Hiller equity suit before Judge Belinger, wherein property valued at about $1,000,000 was in dispute and has been connected with noted cases in local tribunals. His force as an orator has made his services as a campaigner and speaker on miscellaneous occasions in demand.

Born Near Janesville.

"Judge Cleland was born, in 1848, on a farm near Janesville, Wis. His early education was in the public schools of Janesville, and was completed by part of a term in Carroll college, Waukesha. The college was interrupted to begin a course in the law department of the university of Michigan, at Ann Arbor, in 1869. During the two years of 1870 and 1871 the legal course was completed, the young student graduating in 1871. In the following summer, Osgood, Ia., was chosen as a field for practice, and here the ordinary work of the profession was pursued until 1886. That year Judge Cleland was the successful candidate for the office of district attorney of the 12th judicial circuit of Iowa which embraced eight counties. A handsome majority of the district vote remains as a substantial evidence of the young lawyer's popularity in that section, and his re-election to the same office at the conclusion of the first term proved that the people's faith was strengthened. After the expiration of the second term of this office, 1884, Judge Cleland was elected to the circuit bench of the same district, and in 1886, to the district bench of the same place. These two courts both had original jurisdiction of all cases, save that the district court exclusively handled criminal matters, and the circuit court had the same powers in probate affairs.

Resigned to Practice

"Before the term of two years as district judge expired, Judge Cleland resigned to resume his law practice. Shortly afterward he went to Fargo, N. D., and formed a law partnership there, where he remained until he came to Portland in 1890. Since coming here Judge Cleland has devoted his time to the practice of law, in the firm of Cleland & Cleland, the junior partner being W. B. Cleland, the youngest brother of the family.

A METHODICAL SHOPPER

"Well, John, I'm going shopping. My list is now complete; I know just where to purchase. From reading last night's sheet. It really is so handy. When one no time can waste. To take notes from the ad-page—Then one can shop in haste.

"I'll buy those shirts you needed from Johnson's special sale! To choose a dress for Minnie at Brown's I cannot fail. I see that Fleming's book store sells Riley's works in calf. I think I'll get a copy—The price is cut one-half.

"I'll get some of that china that Malby advertised. Tho' cheap, 'twill fare as nicely as dear grades, I'm advised. Then for that wedding present to Burchall's I shall go. His ad. held forth such offers, I'll get one there I know.

"I'll meet you at the office in just two hours, my dear. I won't spend all my money. Nor ask more, never fear." "Well, well, said John. I never knew how she planned before. Nor what a guide to shoppers each day came to our door.

"Hereafter I'll consider The ads with more concern. From pondering their offers, Economy may learn. No need to buy hap-hazard While bargains wait galore. Those merchants all deserve success, Who advertise their store."

Woman's World.

A Woman's Century.

Miss Frances Willard says that the greatest achievement of the century is the discovery of woman. "The wonderful strides made in the advancement of her cause during the last 25 years certainly indicate that she is capable of performing nearly everything that a man can accomplish and is destined to become practically his equal in most of the professions and vocations. Today women are building and planning houses. In the chemical laboratory they administer gas and extract teeth. We meet them everywhere, on the road as drummers, as theatrical agents and managers. They are in the field, in the dairy and make successful farmers, barbers, hunters, scouts and detectives. It is estimated that there are over 4,000,000 women breadwinners in the United States, all doing good work. It is indeed a woman's century."

Dr. Allie M. Day.

Mrs. Allie M. Day, wife of Editor Day of the Crown Point (Ind.) Register, has been appointed, over several male applicants, physician and surgeon at the county asylum and hospital by the county commissioners. There were several male applicants for the place. Mrs. Day will have to perform many serious surgical operations, as all accidents occurring among the poorer people in the county are treated at this institution. She is the first woman in the state to hold such a position. She graduated from an Indianapolis college with high honors.

Voice Culture.

Miss Elizabeth Bradford Rice of Chester, Pa., says of "Voice Culture in Clubs." "By all means let us have voice culture in our clubs. It is every woman's duty to speak her native tongue not only with skill and precision, but with vocal accuracy. We can all emulate Cordelia and seek to possess that excellent thing in a woman—a voice ever gentle, soft and low."

The Rule.

"Why," asked the bold spirit, "do you wear that?"
"It's what everybody wears," answered the woman.
"But why don't you wear this?" the bold spirit persisted.
"Oh, because everybody is wearing it!" objected the woman.
A rule may work both ways and still be poor.—Detroit Journal.

In Sonoma county, Cal., there are women who are taking an active part in public life. One woman is postmistress at Sonoma, another an attorney at Santa Rosa, two are physicians, one a sign painter, one an undertaker, and another a member of the board of education in Petaluma.

The Syracuse Rainy Day club is discouraged on the subject of short skirts. It seems that the members cannot make up their minds to openly and publicly wear their vaunted abbreviations, and yet what excuse is there for a rainy day club unless there is a rainy day costume?

Massachusetts furnishes New York the first woman doctor whom that state has accepted in its hospital service. Dr. Marie Benoit of Lowell has been appointed medical interne from the civil service list and attached to the Hospital For Epileptics.

The Magazine club was organized by Miss Gray of Worcester, Mass., and its object is to bring old magazines within the reach of those to whom they are as acceptable as new ones. The first club was started in 1893 with five members.

Marshall Field of Chicago has extended for six months his offer of $50,000 to save the Woman's temple in that city conditional upon the W. C. T. U. raising an additional $250,000.

No woman has ever actually sat in the English parliament, though several have been returned as members.

Miss May Ashworth.

Miss May Ashworth, the official typewriter to the houses of parliament—typist, they call her in England—has held that position since March, 1895, when she received the appointment from Herbert Gladstone, who was then commissioner of works.

She has a room set apart for the use of her staff of assistants in St. Stephen's hall, but so great has been the demand for their services that for the coming session an additional room is to be set aside for this purpose. Miss Ashworth seldom goes to the house herself, the office being conducted by one of her managers.

In addition to this work Miss Ashworth has a large office in Victoria street, where she conducts a typewriting school, and also has a large corps of assistants for the usual stenographic and copying work. She has been in business for ten years, and her offices have grown from two rooms on a top floor to an entire suite on the first floor of the Victoria street mansion.

Styles For Evening Wear.

The evening bodice has come to be almost a work of art, so elaborately is it trimmed with lace, chiffon or net, which are many times traced in pretty designs with fine beads in bright coloring, tinsel threads and jet. While the medium bloused bodice of course has the lead there are many waists in draped effects that are more becoming and consequently more suitable to the figure of stout proportions. Round waists are used entirely for evening wear, with either girdles, fancy or crushed belts for the lower finish.

The new evening sleeve is a pretty, dainty affair of tiny ruffles or a small puff, with two very narrow ones below, banded close to the arm with velvet or satin ribbon tied in little bows on the top. Where short sleeves are not preferred the long, transparent mousquetaire sleeve is still quite popular.—Woman's Home Companion.

The Season's Gloves.

Gloves for this season are the sueded or soft finished leather ones. For street wear they are pique stitched, and the most stylish have but one button or clasp and invariably match the color of the gown, gloves of a contrasting color being no longer regarded as in good taste. Evening gloves grow longer as the days grow shorter, some of them measuring one yard and a half from the finger tips to the top. They will be worn more wrinkled than for some time past. Some few are lace trimmed, others daintily embroidered, but the majority have plain machine stitching in silk to match the color of the glove or perhaps one shade darker.—Exchange.

The Literary Club.

Mrs. Mary E. Reed, of "The Literary Club as a Factor in Woman's Life," takes the position that "if clubs and societies are means among men of securing the blessing of mutual protection, philanthropy and intellectual growth, why should not organization make more attainable the objects stirring the minds and hearts of intelligent women? If properly conducted, a woman's club will bring the best elements in a community; it will elevate the tone and thought in that community; from it will emanate a spirit which will elevate and enable every member to bring out and to use the ability and influence God has given her."

Rice Snowballs.

Here is a recipe from Good House-keeping: Boil the rice till very tender and half fill small cups which have been dampened on the inside, putting in the rice while still very hot. Set away in a refrigerator or some cold place for at least three hours. Just before the dinner hour cut out the center of each rice cake and fill it with some bright colored jelly. Then turn out the mounds upon a platter and pour soft custard about their bases or simply serve with cream and sugar. This makes an attractive dessert and is very easily prepared.

When Sewing Is Obsolete.

Think of a system of gumming or cementing textile fabrics which may make the sewing machine and the needle as obsolete as the red man's bow and arrow. Such an invention, if it succeeds, will profoundly affect the whole world of women, and probably modify the industry of many millions of people.—Youth's Companion.

New Knockabout Yachts.

The new knockabouts established as a class by the American Yacht club have the following dimensions: Length over all, 37 feet 10 inches, with a load water line length of 25 feet; beam, 9 feet 4½ inches; boom, 30 feet 10 inches; mainsail area of 635 square feet, with a hoist of 22 feet 4 inches, and a jib of 165 square feet, making total sail area 800 square feet. The fin keel type has been adopted as being faster than the normal keel type. Its construction is simple and strong, a bent oak keel, with outside fin of oak and ballast of lead, being used.

Larger Gears.

Last season there was a run on gears of about 72, while the scurrier used from 80 to 90. According to many manufacturers high gears, running from 80 to 104, will be the only thing next year. In very few cases of big orders are gears of less than 90 called for.

Baseball Telegrams.

The National league will probably permit the Postal Telegraph company's operators to work side by side with the Western Union men next season. Heretofore the Western Union has had a monopoly of the baseball business.

American Securities Abroad.

The sales of American securities have been according to London advices, very large, abroad of late, and there appears to be a tendency toward increase in the sales. If this state of things holds, there will be an increasing influx of British gold into this market. This is good news and demonstrates the faith abroad in the stability of our credit. There is another point of faith for which the people not only of this but foreign countries have good grounds for credence, and that is, belief in the efficacy of Hostetter's Stomach Bitters for inorganic maladies which affect the stomach, liver, bowels, kidneys and nerves. Dyspepsia, biliousness, constipation, rheumatism, and a tendency to insomnia, are counteracted and conquered by it. It rallies falling appetite, hastens convalescence, and diffuses a generous warmth and sensation of physical comfort through the system. A wonderful power for retarding promot-a health-via! in a number.

Motor Car Exhibition.

A similar English exhibition soon to be opened at Bradford consists of motor cars, motor wagons, motor cycles, bicycles, tricycles, road skates, the coming method of travel, carriages, engines, motors, and their accessories.

A Woman Brakeman.

A woman brakeman is the latest innovation in a field heretofore held inviolate to man. Mrs. Jessie Mulligan, the widow of James Mulligan, a railroad conductor who was killed on the Yellowstone division of the Northern Pacific railroad six months ago, is now working for the company in the capacity of freight train brakeman. She is reported as taking kindly to her new sphere of activity, setting brakes, coupling cars, turning switches and performing various other duties as well as the ordinary brakeman.

German Tradeswomen.

The German woman proclaims her emancipation not only by going for academic degrees in competition with the men, but by engaging in all sorts of trades in like rivalry. A recent official report shows that there are in Germany 8 women employed as chimney sweeps, 85 as slaters, 7 as gunsmiths, 147 as coppersmiths, 379 as farriers and nailers, 309 as masons, 8 as stonecutters and 2,000 in marble, slate and stone quarries.

We back them with a positive five year guarantee—our personal guarantee and the maker's. The makers are the National Sewing Machine Co. of Belvidere, one of the largest concerns in the country. They turn out 500 machines a day, and can build thoroughly good machines on the closest possible margins. We show four of their best sellers:

At $16 "Expert".

At $20 "Seamstress."

At $25 "Eldredge B."

At $30 Eldredge B (Drop Head).

OUR $16 machine is worth two of any other low-priced machine on the market and is backed by a sweeping five year guarantee. Every part is case hardened. All parts are interchangeable, so that repairs can be had on a day's notice. The machines will last a life time. They are built by skilled mechanics. They are built in a factory; not in a foundry. They are backed by a responsible firm and if anything goes wrong you know where to come.

THIS DAY IN HISTORY

1712—Frederick the Great born in Berlin; died at Sans Souci 1786.
1738—Benjamin Franklin, American Revolutionary general, born in Hingham, Mass.; died there 1810. He defended Charleston against Prevost in 1779, and with Count d'Estaing assaulted Savannah in 1780.
1870—The United States warship Oneida run down off Yokohama by the British merchant steamer Bombay; 20 officers and 150 of the crew lost.
1875—Rev. Charles Kingsley, canon of Westminster, died in London; born 1819. The life work of Canon Kingsley was directed toward the amelioration of the condition of the working classes.
1880—Justice Lucius Quintus Cincinnatus Lamar of the United States supreme court died at Macon; born in Georgia 1825.
1886—Lord Randolph Henry Spencer Churchill, prominent English politician, died in London; born 1849.
1897—Mrs. Hungerford, famous as a British novelist under the nom de plume "The Duchess," died in Dublin.

TO TALK CURRENCY.

Monetary Conventions Will Meet to Consider a Reform.

Indianapolis, Ind., Jan. 24.—The monetary convention, out of which grew the movement for currency reform last winter, will reassemble in this city Tuesday.

The prospects now are that the convention will be larger this year than last, though the same bodies were invited to send representatives. The list of delegates selected includes some of the most influential and best known men of the country; men of national reputation in their various lines of business or profession.

When the executive committee first decided to reassemble the convention it had serious doubts as to whether men busy with important affairs of their own would drop their work and devote the time to making a winter trip to Indianapolis simply for the purpose of considering and passing upon the report of the convention. This doubt, however, was dissipated within four or five days after the call was issued for the convention. A few trade organizations complained that they could not send delegates at this time, because of the great pressure of business, but more of such bodies responded favorably than was the case last year. There have been over four hundred delegates selected, and the convention this year will have at least 350 delegates, while last year it was composed of 299.

RECIPROCITY MOVES SLOWLY.

Government Officials Conducting Negotiations with Many Nations.

Washington, Jan. 24.—Reciprocity negotiations continue to proceed in a manner satisfactory to officials, but there is no prospect that treaties or agreements will be concluded in the near future. The negotiations with Peru are the farthest along, and these have reached a point where the draft of a treaty has been made. It is shown that, unlike the cotton of the southern states and other cotton sections, that of Peru has many colors other than white.

The negotiations have brought out that freight rates are an element which gives European countries a great advantage over the United States in the matter of trade with South America. In the case of Peru the rate to the United States is the same as the rate from Peru to Liverpool and thence to the United States.

Brazil, Argentina and Chili have made no moves thus far toward reciprocity.

The British negotiations as to reciprocity with the West Indian Islands have advanced as a result of several recent meetings between Sir Julian Pauncefote and Commissioner Kasson.

The French negotiations are awaiting Ambassador Cambon's further instructions from Paris. The German negotiations are not being pushed so far as can be learned, and it is felt that action on them will depend considerably upon the success of the movement to have European countries which give a bounty on certain products, mainly sugar, unite in common action.

TALK OF ECONOMY.

Iowa Senate Likely to Scale Down Special Appropriations.

Des Moines, Iowa, Jan. 24.—The outlook for special appropriations for the different state institutions by the present legislature is not promising.

Senator Garst (rep.) of Carroll, chairman of the senate appropriation committee, said Sunday that the senate appropriations and ways and means committees had agreed in a general way that enough saving must be made in the next biennial period to wipe out the present state debt of over $500,000. Adherence to this determination will leave little or nothing for new buildings.

At the most liberal estimate not more than 75 per cent of the usual special allowances can be made, and it is more than likely that this amount will have to be reduced if the state debt is to be wiped out.

FOR CHURCH UNITY.

Report Touching the Methodists, North and South—Education.

Chattanooga, Tenn., Jan. 24.—The following official report of the action of the joint committee of federation appointed by the general conferences of the Methodist Episcopal churches north and south, which met at Baltimore recently, was given out by Secretary Dr. R. J. Cooke:

"Resolved, That the general conferences of the two churches be recommended to order the preparation of a common catechism, hymn book and order of public worship for both churches.

"While recognizing the value and growth of the Epworth League of the respective churches and rejoicing in the spirit of fraternity manifested in their biennial international conference, in the absence of any literal provision for it, it is suggested for the general conferences the propriety of recognizing and regulating it by legal provisions.

"That the general conferences of the respective churches be recommended to adopt measures for the joint administration of their publishing interests in China and Japan.

"It was further agreed for the prevention of hurtful competition that in places where either church is established and supplying the needs of the people new work shall not be organized by the other church without the consent of the bishop having jurisdiction.

"That it is the imperative duty of the Protestant church to provide in the city of Washington a university, Christian, Catholic, tolerant and American, having for its sole aim post-graduate and professional study and original research, and that the American university is worthy of the confidence and benefactions of the people in all our churches.

"We also agreed to recommend to the general conferences of the two churches provision for the reception of ministers from one church to the other without loss of orders in ministerial standing."

New Bedford the Fighting Ground.

Boston, Mass., Jan. 24.—The center of the interesting scenes in the textile troubles of New England temporarily shifted from New Bedford to this city Sunday to the meeting of the executive council of the National Spinners' union. This meeting was called to consider the strike situation in New Bedford, and also the matter of the Fall River mills and other mills in New England where strikes or lockouts are imminent or have already taken place. The meeting was one of discussion, rather than of action, although it was resolved to concentrate all the efforts of the organization on the New Bedford situation, leaving the Fall River troubles and the difficulties in other cities for local unions to handle and adjust, if possible.

Dull Week at Springfield.

Springfield, Ill., Jan. 24.—Should the Berry police investigation committee remain in Chicago this week the probabilities are that little business will be transacted in the senate. At any rate, the committee will not complete its labors before Wednesday, and Tuesday promises to be a dull day in the senate. The house will devote practically its entire time this week to the consideration of revenue legislation. At the session to-night the senate revenue bill will be transmitted to the house, read a first time and advanced to second reading without reference to the revenue committee.

New Maltsters' Combine.

Pittsburg, Pa., Jan. 24.—Pittsburg and West Virginia brewers and distillers will soon be independent of the American Malt company. An organization of the prominent beer, ale, porter and whisky producers of this territory is being accomplished to establish their own malt warehouse and to germinate the barley and keep it prepared to supply the demands of the local consumers. It is proposed to build a malthouse at Chicago with a capacity of 1,000,000 bushels of malt annually.

Hunt for Indiana Lynchers.

Versailles, Ind., Jan. 24.—The state of Indiana has not abandoned the effort to hunt down the men who made up the mob that lynched five alleged thieves here last September. The report is current here that Attorney General Ketcham now has in his office evidence sufficient to convict at least fifty men. One story current here is that the governor may call a special session of the legislature for the enactment of a law under which the lynchers can be reached.

Big Storm Went East.

New York, Jan. 24.—The storm which struck Chicago and the West with such severity swept over the Eastern states and Sunday night passed out to sea. There was little damage in New York, but the outlying districts report barns, fences, outhouses, etc., blown down and damage to trolley lines. There was little trouble with the local telephone and telegraph communication last night, but the wires to the West were few and worked very badly.

STRUCK BY A CAR.

Professor Munyon Cures a Remarkable Case of Epilepsy.

Mrs. Tilden, 14 Bluther Street, Cleveland, O., says: "Four years ago I was struck by a street car and severely injured. My trouble developed into a bad case of epilepsy, and since that time I have been in a most wretched condition. I felt as though paralyzed; my limbs seemed to weigh a ton—no feeling in them. I was morose and melancholy, afraid to be alone, and they thought I was going to die."

My nerves were all unstrung; I could not walk across the floor, and in going upstairs I had to stop almost every step to collect my thoughts. Going downstairs was almost an impossibility, as at every step it seemed as if I were walking on air and would have to fall over. I was attacked with fits about once a week; at times I would fall on the street. It was impossible for me to sleep to any extent, as I was subject to violent nervous spells. I also was subject to illusions; thought somebody was going to kill me; that I was going to jump out of the window, and other things I had doctored with the best physicians, and to the last one I paid about $100, but got no relief. He said he did not think I would ever get better. As a last resort, I tried Munyon's physicians, and was told that I could be cured. That was about two months ago. Since then I have not had a nervous spell, I can sleep well, have no more illusions, and, with the exception of a slight pain in the back, am as well as I ever was in my life."

Munyon puts up a separate cure for each disease. At all druggists, mostly 25 cents a vial. Personal letters to Prof. Munyon, 1,505 Arch Street, Philadelphia, Pa., answered with free medical advice for any disease.

My nerves were all unstrung; I could not walk across the floor, and in going upstairs I had to stop almost every step to collect my thoughts. Going downstairs was almost an impossibility, as at every step it seemed as if I were walking on air and would have to fall over. I was attacked with fits about once a week; at times I would fall on the street. It was impossible for me to sleep to any extent, as I was subject to violent nervous spells. I also was subject to illusions; thought somebody was going to kill me; that I was going to jump out of the window, and other things I had doctored with the best physicians, and to the last one I paid about $100, but got no relief. ARCHITECTURAL DESIGNS.

NEAT AND COMFORTABLE.

Design For a Cozy Cottage of Nine Rooms, to Cost $1,700.

[Copyright, 1898, by George Palliser, 32 Park place, New York.]

It is most interesting and amusing for an architect to hear a client's expressions on the various styles of buildings which his professional adviser has set before him. There are many pretty points and good features about each which he desires, and after he has seen many designs he finally becomes nonplused, hardly knowing which way to turn. He would have a tower here, a dormer window there, a balcony here, and so on, without a thought of the absurdity of the monstrosity that he would place before the public or the ridicule the architect would be subject to. Thus it is we get some freaks in architecture.

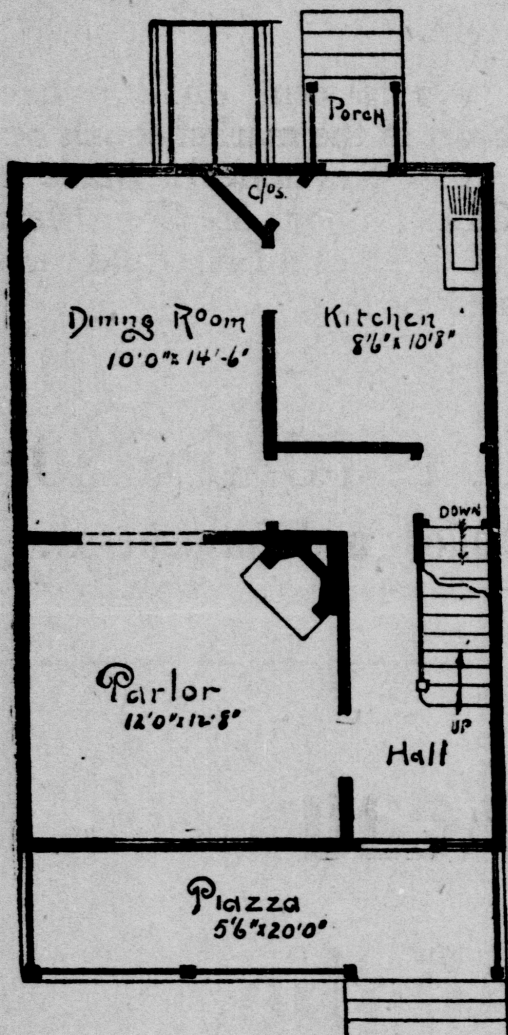

PERSPECTIVE VIEW.

ture, something that the owner has insisted upon, contrary to the advice of his architect.

We have here a small suburban cottage, one in which we use all the available space to advantage. We place parlor, dining room and kitchen on the first floor, connecting each room separately with the hall, and have a large open fireplace in the parlor. The second floor comprises four chambers and a spacious linen closet, each room being connected with the hall.

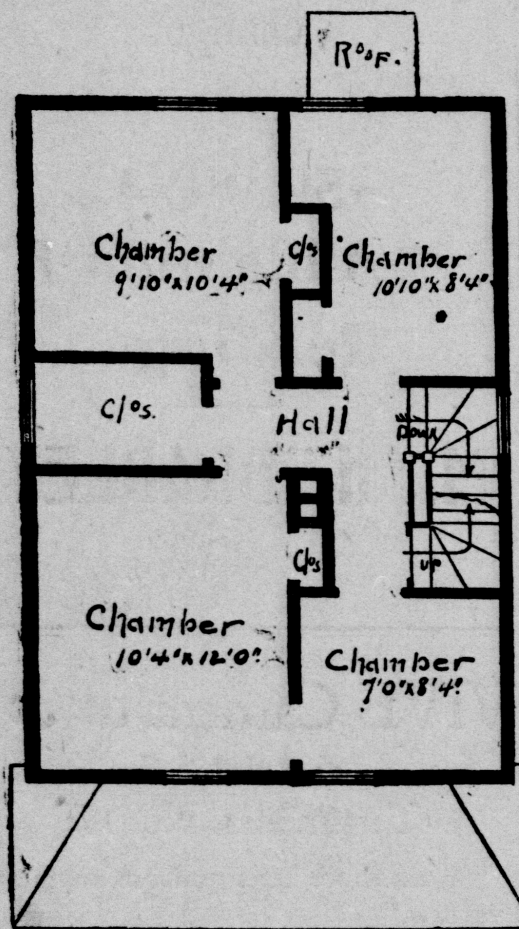

This cottage may be built on a 25 by 50 foot lot, the exterior dimensions being 20 feet wide by 28 feet long, with a piazza running the entire front width and a small porch in rear. In the attic are two rooms, which may be used as a chamber and storeroom. We have now a small, cozy, nine room house, with a roomy cellar and a comfortable attic.

This is what I have designed for a man who had a certain sum of money to spend. He came into my office with no definite idea as to what he required, and, as I have said, wanted dormers, towers, balconies, etc., and seemed to have no regard for taste or judgment as to cost until I showed him his proposed building, drawn to scale, when it was a very simple matter to convince him of the folly of his own design. Now, you see, this man really built his house for $1,698, whereas he would have spent twice that amount in an utter absurdity had he carried out his own ideas. It is always best to consult an architect for his opinions as to the practicability of a design, and it will prove a saving of money and be very satisfactory in the end, while if your house were built from your own plans you would no doubt regret a good many things. Therefore call on your friend the architect.

Cheaper Than Banks.

A building association has only a title of the expenses of a savings bank. The cost of doing business is very small. An association has a very great advantage over a bank in its earning capacity in that it does not have to carry a surplus. All of its money is invested at all times. Frequently it is receiving interest upon money that is not a part of its assets. This happens when an application for a loan has been accepted, a building is under way and the money not all paid out.—Exchange.

A FRAME RESIDENCE.

Built in the Southern Style—A Good Example of What Can Be Done For $3,800. [Copyright, 1898, by George Palliser, 32 Park place, New York.]

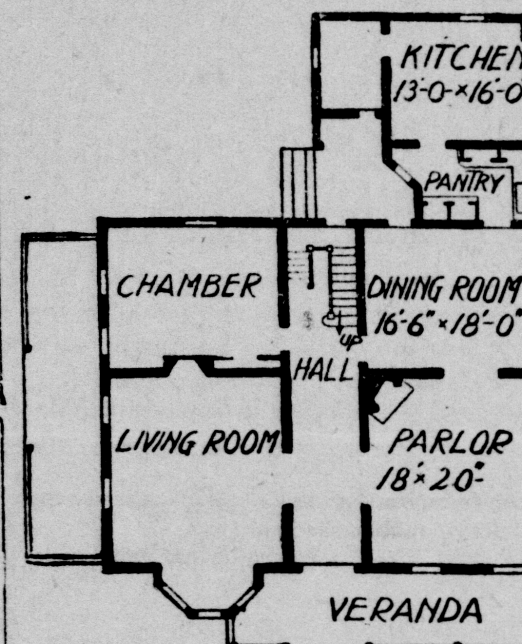

In employing an architect it is natural to consider that he might be done without. Some people base their ability to plan their own buildings on what they have seen others do or on what experience they may have had themselves, and I have known people who never had anything to do with building to tell their architect when the contract was made, "I can superintend the work myself," thinking that as the plans and the specifications were settled the rest was easy and they could do it as well as any one else. When I have a client of this kind, I am always glad to note the measure of his success or failure, and it has invariably turned out that such clever people have either ended in a lawsuit with their builders or have had a big bill to pay for extras, and often both. Builders prefer to deal with those who know the business and who, when they require information from the architect, can get it in practical form. But from one who does not know a plan or its construction it is difficult to get anything, and it is generally a quarrel over everything, as it is but half done, and in nearly every case the architect is called on to settle disputes at last.

The architect protects his client and at the same time is just to the builder. With his knowledge and experience he is able to give advice and assistance in the settlement of every detail. He places his imprint on all that he does, and the value of this comes in the artistic effect produced. At the same time his superior knowledge enables him to see the finished conception, and he does not interfere with the end in view by changing here and there as pro-rees is made. And this is what the owner invariably does who has the courage of his convictions. The architect, no matter how vigilant he is, cannot foresee everything in the operation of building and must take for granted much that the builder does. Hence it is important to get the co-operation of a competent builder, one who has a sound reputation and who is known to do the best work only. With such a builder, the work being supervised by the architect, the result will be satisfactory and will show superiority of taste and ingenuity of form, as well as be workmanlike, economical and lasting. These are the fruits of efficient management.

This design was erected in the south and shows a capital plan arranged to suit that locality. The kitchen being isolated, entirely outside the main house, as is usual in that section.

A frame residence, 47 feet wide and 58 feet deep; a good plan for a roomy home.

SECOND FLOOR PLAN.

Height of stories—first floor, 12 feet; second floor, 11 feet; frame rough sheathed; first story clapboard finish; other parts shingled; roofs of shingles; inside finish of yellow pine, of neat design and finished in natural wood; plumbed complete, having water from cistern, force pump and tank; cesspool for drainage; walls sand finished for papering; open fireplaces, with wood mantels complete; exterior work, two coats paint; veranda ceilings, yellow pine, finished in spar composition; shingles, two coats creosote stain; attic floored over.

Cost to build, $3,780. This price was in the south, where lumber and other materials are cheap.

The kitchen wing can be enlarged or changed to suit requirements and can be made two stories high at slight added cost. The height of the ceilings can also be changed.

The Saving Berration.

"I believe," said Mr. Meeekton, "that all men are born equal." His outburst caused Mrs. Meeekton to look sharply at him over the top of his paper, and he hastened to add "You will observe, Henrietta, that I said 'all men.' Of course, I do not undertake to limit the heights of superiority which others may naturally occupy."

Coeducation in France.

In France women are admitted as students in the universities on the same conditions as men, and are eligible for the diplomas conferred on male students. In Belgium there is a statutory equality for men and women. It is the same in Holland, and statistics show that the number of women students is steadily increasing.

What pleasure is there in life with a headache, constipation and biliousness? Thousands experience them who could become perfectly healthy by using DeWitt's Little Early Risers, the famous little pills. People's Drug Co.

Furnished Roaster.

A long-suffering listener, after hearing from a youth his account of how he and two companions kept 500 Indians at bay for twenty-four hours, asked: "Do you know why the Lord said to Ananias 'Stand forth?'" Upon receiving a negative reply, he continued: "Well, I don't either, unless it was so that you and your two companions could stand first, second and third."

Cats Sacred in Medieval Times.

Down to as late as the middle ages cats were comparatively scarce in Europe, and were so highly prized that any person who killed one was obliged to pay a fine. This penalty sometimes was required to be paid in the shape of a pile of wheat big enough to cover the slain animal when it was held vertically by the tip of its tail, the nose touching the ground.

Home Made Soap

You have become accustomed to using one brand of Soap, perhaps. Many housekeepers do. We hope your favorite is WHITE NICKEL because we know you have the very best Soap made. If you never have tried WHITE NICKEL let us give you a few reasons why you should:

First—Because it is made solely and purely from pure tallow and coconut oil, the two things necessary articles to good Soap. Second—Because it has a lasting quality from its purity that other Soaps have not; it does not jelly and dissolve rapidly. Third—Because it contains no impurities that are most certainly injurious to fabrics and clothing; resin and marble dust help the manufacturers of many well known Soaps but not the consumer; WHITE NICKEL is free from these harmful ingredients. Fourth—Because one bar of WHITE NICKEL does the work of two of other Soaps.

We have many testimonials from users of WHITE NICKEL SOAP:

MR. C. A. CARTER, Steward State Hospital for Insane, Mendota, declares: "The aggregate cost of WHITE NICKEL SOAP since he has been using it at the Institution (taking a hundred boxes a year) is a saving to the State of nearly one-half." Ask your grocer for WHITE NICKEL. If he hasn't it, try the next.

CANTILLON A CRACK SHOT THE ERA OF CHEAP GOODS DARKEST RUSSIA TOMORROW

Former Janesville Man One of the Best Trappers "In the Country."

The Milwaukee Journal has this to say about a former Janesville man: "A great deal of favorable comment has been created in shooting circles by the recent shoot between W. D. Cantillon and J. F. Wolf, in which Mr. Cantillon actually scored 91 birds out of a possible 100, besides killing four birds out of bounds. The record is one of the best that has been made in the Orem City for some time, and when it is taken into consideration that this is Mr. Cantillon's first season at live bird shooting, the feat is particularly noteworthy."

"The record equals that of the crack shots from all parts of the country. Rola Heikes recently defeated O. M. Grimm by a score of 91 to 87, while George L. Deiter won the Dupont trophy by killing 84 birds out of 100. In the famous match between Fred Gilbert and J. A. R. Elliot, Mr. Elliot, who is one of the most skillful shots in the country, grassed only 84 birds. This record, accordingly, puts Mr. Cantillon on a level with the leading marksmen in live bird shooting."

"Mr. Cantillon has also been interested in various other forms of sport. He was at one time a professional ball player, and played with the Omaha team in the Western league, while his brother, Joe Cantillon, was manager of the Dubuque team in the Western association last year. Mr. Cantillon likewise takes great interest in boxing and is accounted one of the best sparring in the city. He is a fast sprinter as well, and although he has never participated in a race, it is known that he can outrun a large number of Milwaukee track athletes. He is assistant superintendent of the Wisconsin division of the Northwestern railroad."

Deaf and Dumb.

Deaf and Dumb Beggar (at unexpectedly receiving a quarter)—Oh, thankee, thankee!

Benevolent Passer—Eh? What does this mean, sir? You can talk.

Beggar (in confusion)—Y-e-s, sir. Ye see, sir, I'm only holdin' this corner for the poor deaf and dumb man wot belongs here.

Benevolent Passer (quickly)—Where is he?

Beggar (in worse confusion)—He's—he's gone to th' park t' hear de music.—N. Y. Weekly.

Just Before the Engagement.

"I see they have a machine now for photographing one's thoughts," he said, for want of something better to say.

"I wish you could photograph mine," she returned.

"Why?" he asked.

"Possibly it would encourage you a little," she answered.

Shortly afterward it was decided that he should "see papa" just as soon as he could muster up sufficient courage.—Chicago Post.

The Way To Check the Movement Is To Enlighten Buyers.

The fallacy of continued advertising and buying of cheap goods, at cheap prices was well set forth in John Lee Mahin's article in the Chicago Post.

It is the maker and of good goods who should spend money in advertising, and thus do his part to educate the buying public to the fact that it is false economy to buy cheap goods because they are advertised at cheap prices. There is a certain moral obligation here which should appeal to the maker of standard goods, along with his desire for financial gain.

Mr. Mahin sums up his argument very forcibly as follows:

It is the duty of every man who can do a thing well, who makes a good thing, who sells a good thing, to tell people about it. Tell them all about it. Tell them in a manner which is adapted to their condition, their means and their understanding. The people can afford to pay for being told. The maker and dealer can afford to make the investment in means and methods which may be necessary to inaugurate a systematic method of telling. In other words, any maker of a good thing and any regular dealer in a line of good things should consider the investment in advertising in this light. It is simply buying public favor. A business man buys what he wants. Advertising is nothing unless it is truthful, and thereby an advantage to those influenced by it. It is nothing unless it brings stability in price and an increased margin of profit to the advertiser. Advertising is influencing men. It is making opinions in other minds. It has humanity yet evolved a nobler calling one more worthy of master minds and consecrated hearts?

We are anxious to do a little good in this world and can think of no pleasanter or better way to do it than by recommending One Minute Cough Cure as a preventative of pneumonia, consumption and other serious lung troubles that follow neglected colds. People's Drug Co.

Getting Things Mixed.

It is said that an English—not an Irish—judge was not long ago heard to address a frequently-convicted prisoner in these terms: "Are you aware that for these repeated breaches of the law it is in my power to sentence you to a term of penal servitude far exceeding your natural life? And, what is more, I feel very much inclined to do it."—Tit-Bits.

Trial of an Artist.

Sympathizing Friend—I am awfully sorry to hear that your work was rejected.

The Count's Mistake.

"So Gwendolyn is not to marry the count after all?"

"No, poor man! He tried to tell her that her singing was something that made one glad to live, and his pronunciation was so broken that she thought he said it made one glad to leave. And then she requested him to leave."—Indianapolis Journal.

Even More Solemn.

A thoughtful old Scotchman exhorted his daughter in this fashion: "Jennie, my lass, it's a vera solemn thing to be married." "I ken that weel, father," replied Jennie, promptly, "but it's a great deal solemnner not to be."—The Rival.

His Start in Life.

"They tell me, sir, that you had very little capital when you started out to build your fortune."

"The only capital I had," said the self-made man, with a degree of pride, "was capital I."—Cincinnati Enquirer.

Well Known Play Will Be Presented to Janesville Audience.

Among the most creditable performances which are booked for this city during the season is the well known romantic drama, "Darkest Russia," which will be seen at the Myers Grand tomorrow evening. In a series of interesting situations, dramatic scenes, rounded periods and thrilling climaxes, that extend from the beginning of the play to the final curtain, the story is told with a genius that few equal, none excel. The characters have the advantage of being well drawn and a close attention to details has made the production a complete success. There are over twenty speaking characters in the cast and great care exercised by Manager Ellis in selecting competent persons to assume the different roles has resulted in placing "Darkest Russia" on the top round of attractions. The plot is one of great strength and the story that comes out in the unwinding, appeals to the masses and goes straight to the hearts of the spectators. The comedy element, of the fresh and invigorating kind that never fails to please, is one of the principal features of the performance.

CATARRH OF THE STOMACH

A Pleasant, Simple, But Safe and Effectual Cure for It

Catarrh of the stomach has long been considered the next thing to incurable. The usual symptoms are a full or bloating sensation after eating, accompanied sometimes with sour or watery risings, a formation of gases, causing pressure on the heart and lungs and difficult breathing; headache, fickle appetite, nervousness and a general played out, languid feeling.

There is often a foul taste in the mouth, coated tongue and if the interior of the stomach could be seen it would show a slimy, inflamed condition.

The common and obstinate trouble is found in a treatment which causes the food to be readily, thoroughly digested before it has time to ferment and irritate the delicate mucous surfaces of the stomach. To secure a prompt and healthy digestion is the one necessary thing to do and when normal digestion is secured the catarrhal condition will have disappeared.

According to Dr. Harlanston the safest and best treatment is to use after each meal a tablet, composed of Diastase, Aseptic Pepsin, a little Nux. Golden Seal and fruit acids. These tablets can now be found at all drug stores under the name of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets and not being a patent medicine can be used with perfect safety and assurance that healthy appetite and thorough digestion will follow their regular use after meals.

Mr. N. J. Booher, of 2710 Dearborn St., Chicago, Ill., writes: "Catarrh is a local condition resulting from a neglected cold in the head, whereby the lining membrane of the nose becomes inflamed and the poisonous discharge therefrom passing backward into the throat reaches the stomach, thus producing catarrh of the stomach. Medical authorities prescribed for me for three years for catarrh of stomach without cure, but today I am the happiest of men after using only one box of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets. I cannot find appropriate words to express my good feeling. I have found flesh, appetite and sound rest from their use."

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets is the safest preparation as well as the simplest and most convenient remedy for any form of indigestion, catarrh of stomach, biliousness, sour stomach, heartburn and bloating after meals.

Send for little book, mailed free, on stomach troubles, by addressing Stuart Co., Marshall, Mich. The tablets can be found at all drug stores.

January Cloak Business

Is good—better than usual in this month, but whether it is because there's more money in circulation or that we are giving better values than ever before, we cannot tell. Certain it is that business in the cloak department reminds us of the busy times during early season. Of course there are many reasons why women are buying cloaks at this time, the most important being that the new and stylish coats which have been priced at $9 to $15 can be bought today a $5.00, and coats which have been up to $7.50 are now down to $2.87. This applies to misses' jackets as well as to ladies' garments, whether jackets or capes.

It is well to have in mind that the line of new, stylish garments which we show at this time is larger and more complete than the average store shows at the beginning of a season. For large women we have plenty of good coats in 40, 42, 44 and 46 bust measure at both the above prices—$2.87 and $5.00.

Gaiter Leggings—For ladies, misses and children in six sizes, made of black jersey cloth, with buttons and straps. Prices 75c to $1.35 according to size. No gaiter on the market to equal them for warmth.

Fleece Lined Hosiery—Have all sizes, in two qualities for ladies—25c and 35c, and at the prices they are excellent value. For children, have a line, sizes 6 to 9 1/2, at 10c and 12 1/2c

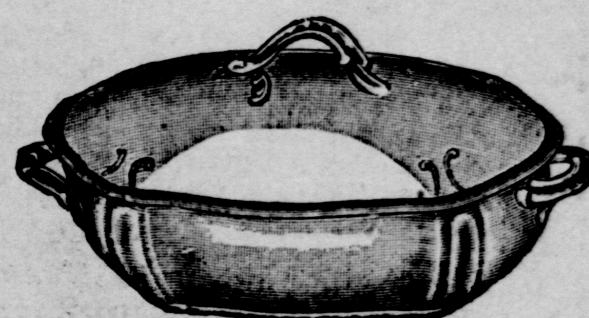

All lines of Winter Goods are priced low.
